1. Introduction

The Promotion of Access to Information Act, 2000 (the “Act”) gives third parties the right to approach private bodies and the government to request information held by them, which is required in the exercise and/or protection of any rights. On request, the private body or government is obliged to release such information unless the Act expressly states that the records containing such information may or must not be released.

This manual informs requestors of procedural and other requirements which a request must meet as prescribed by the Act.

2. Nature of the business

CONDYN is an Information Security Solutions Distributor.

5. Access to records held by the company

If the requirements for access to company records have been met, then the records may be accessed by the requester.

A requester is any person making a request for access to a record of the Company and in this regard, the Act distinguishes between two types of requesters:

1. Personal Requester

A personal requester is referred to as a requester who is seeking access to a record containing personal information about the requester. Subject to the provisions of the Act and applicable law, the Company will provide the requested information, or give access to any record with regard to the requester's personal information. The prescribed fee for reproduction of the information requested will be charged by the Company.

2. Other Requester

This requester (other than a personal requester) is entitled to request access to information pertaining to third parties. However, the Company is not obliged to grant access prior to the requester fulfilling the requirements for access in terms of the Act. The prescribed fee for reproduction of the information requested will be charged by the Company.

3. Request Procedure

A requester must comply with all the procedural requirements contained in the Act relating to a request for access to a record. A requester must complete the prescribed form enclosed herewith in Addendum A and submit same as well as payment of a request fee and a deposit, if applicable to the information officer at the postal or physical address, or electronic mail address stated herein. The prescribed form must be filled in with enough particularity to at least enable the information officer to identify:

- a) The record or records requested;
- b) The identity of the requester;
- c) What form of access is required; and
- d) The postal address or fax number of the requester.

A requester must state that he or she requires the information in order to exercise or protect a right, and clearly state the nature of the right to be exercised or protected. The Requester must also clearly state the reason or explanation of why the requested record is required for the protection of that right.

The Company will process a request within 30 (thirty) days, unless the requestor has stated special reasons which would satisfy the information officer that circumstances to accelerate this request.

The requester shall be informed in writing whether access has been granted or denied. If, in addition, the requester requires the reasons for the decision in any other manner, he or she must state the manner and the particulars so required.

If a request is made on behalf of another person, the requester must then submit proof of the capacity in which the requester is making the request to the satisfaction of the information officer. If an individual is unable to complete the prescribed form because of illiteracy or disability, such a person may make the request orally to the information officer.

4. Decision

Within 30 (thirty) days of receipt of a request, the company shall decide whether to grant or decline a request and give notice with reasons (if required) to that effect. The company retain the right to extend the 30 (Thirty Day) period, to grant or deny such a request if the request is for large volumes of information or the information required is in storage or held at another office of the company and the information cannot be reasonably obtained within 30 days of the request. request.

The information officer will notify the requester in writing should an extension be necessary.

6. Fees

The Act provides for two types of fees:

A request fee, (which will be a standard fee) and an access fee, which must be calculated by taking into account reproduction costs, search and preparation time and cost, as well as postal costs where applicable.

When a request is received by the information officer of the Company, the Information officer shall by notice require the requester, other than a personal requester, to pay the prescribed request fee (if any), before further processing of the request. If a search for the record is necessary and the preparation of the record for disclosure, including arrangement to make it available in the requested form, requires more than the hours prescribed in the regulations for this purpose, the information officer shall notify the requester to pay as a deposit. The prescribed portion of the access fee which would be payable if the request is granted.

The information officer shall withhold a record until the requester has paid the fee or fees as indicated. A requester whose request for access to a record has been granted, must pay an access fee for reproduction and for search and preparation, and for any time reasonably required in excess of the prescribed hours to search for and prepare the record for disclosure including making arrangements to make it available in the request form.

If a deposit has been paid in respect of a request for access, which is refused, then the information officer shall repay the deposit to the requester.
